Kennedy, the Liberal candidate

Kennedy, the Liberal candidate.

The great and significant Liberal victory was fittingly celebrated last night by a huge torchlight procession headed by the band and pipers, while the candidate followed in an open carriage hauled by hundreds of willing hands, thousands of cheering citizens following. Speeches were made to the throngs in the open street by the member-elect and his chief local supporters in the campaign, J. C. Brown, Robert Jardine, F. W. Howay and T. J. Trapp.

Mr. Kennedy now leads with a majority of 408 with four small places to hear from, which are likely to increase his lead.

Hons, Messrs, McBride and Green were very conspicuous in the streets yesterday, but last evening they hunted their hole. Hon, "Bob" dropped a hundred or two on the local result.

Chilliwack, Cloverdale, Steveston, Central Park and Coquitham especially did nobly in the turnover from Conservatism in the district. The great and significant Liberal vic

Vancouver, Nov. 4.—R. G. Macpherson's most ardent supporters never imagined that he would poll more votes than all the other candidates combined. When that result followed last evening the subsequent celebration was the heartiest in the history of politics in Vancouver. Mr. Macpherson was cheered all the way from the city hall to his committee rooms on Hastings street. There several speeches were delivered, and then a procession was formed. With a band in front and broom and torch brigade following, the procession went to Mr. Macpherson's residence on Robson street and there presented congratulations to the successful candidate and his wife. From here the procession went to the residence of Robert Kelly, on Nicola street, where an impromptu reception was held.

He incidentally criticised the News-Advertiser and its editor for the disgraceful manner in which its part in the campaign had been conducted, and said that he would back the business record and probity of Robert Kelly with that of Carter Cotton. At the Conservative rooms Mr. Ellis delivered a short address, in which he hoped for luck next time

RALPH SMITH RETURNED.

Magnificent Majority For Liberal-Labor. Candidate in Nanaimo Riding.

Candidate in Nanaimo Riding.

In the Nanaimo constituency Ralph Smith, the Liberal candidate, has achieved a signal victory over his opponents, Capt. Clive Phillipps-Wolley, the Conservative representative, and W. Fenton, the Socialist candidate. There yet remains a few places to hear from, but these are quite likely to increase Mr. Smith's majority to over 400.

According to the returns now in he has a lead of 387. Throughout the constituency there was, a general trend in favor of the Liberal candidate. With a few exceptions he had majorities in all the polling places.

No man during the campaign conducted a more vigorous fight than he did. He had to meet the bitter animosity of the Socialists and of the Conservatives combined, both of them regarding Mr. Smith

Last night Nanaimo celebrated the occasion in a fitting manner.

A grand rejoicing took place in the opera house. The Silver Cornet band was in attendance, and with the Liberal-Labor champion, Ralph Smith, were seated T. O'Connell, W. W. B. McInnes, M. P. P., and Wm. Sloan, the candidate for Comox-Atlin. Speeches were delivered by them. Nanaimo citizens showed in an unmistakable manner that they were proud of Mr. Smith as their representative in the House of Commons.

The operation began in earnest at daybreak with a bombardment of the whole line of Russian forts. The Japanese casualties from the 19th to the 24th were 14,000. The centre division lost 6,000 and a single regiment lost 2,500. Only six officers and two hundred men of this regiment remained after the fight.

During the operations from September 28th to October 18th, the Japanese made night attacks. Favors were neither asked for nor given. Even stretcher bearers were killed.

The pioneers were sent to attach ropes to posts to which entanglements were attached, and troops in the trenches pulled upon the ropes, dragging posts and wires away. This werked satisfactory until the Russians began the use of breaching wires. The pioneers advanced and fell as though killed close to the entanglements and remained motionless.

and the other half-moon forts were all captured. The Japanese lost 400.

The Japanese bombardment on the 20th transformed the slope into an inferno. At 11 o'clock a small party of infantry charged toward the west slope and a shrapnel fire was opened on them. Every man seemed to fall. After ten minutes all the Japanese were down. The artillery duel continued until 5.30 p.m., when the first Japanese regiment advanced up the slopes of Nahaokayama to the dead ground which the single company had gained the night, previous. The Russians had retired to their first line of trenches during the night, and several lines of Japanese were extended along the slopes under cover of the brow of the ridge. With a rush they carried the trench line on the crest of the hills. The Utmost Ferocity With daylight the Japanese artillery started a terrific bombardment against the eastern end of the fortified ridge, quieting the Russian fort's guns. The storm of bursting shells lasted for half an hour, during which fime over 400 guns roared in ranid succession.

At 10 in the evening the whole regiment advanced on the southwest slopes of the advance fort on Nahaokayama hill. A small party gained the forts on the crest, but were driven out the next day. Four assaults were made by the Japanese during the next two days, but they were all repulsed. The third regiment was finally forced to retire from the trenches at the foot of the hill. The unsuccessful attempt to captured the advance forts resulted in about a thousand Japanese casualties. One hundred and eighty Russians were found dead in the Nahaokayama, which was covered by a network of trenches and bombproofs. The Japanese were disappointed at their failure to capture the advance forts, which was the key to the western fortified ridge. The capture of the redoubt enabled the Japanese to work eastward, and the possession of the Shuishi hills also enabled them to work westward. With these two forts on the Banjusan and the Keekwan forts on the east side, the Japanese possessed a foothold on the front, ranging over more than half the eastern side of the fortified ridge. positively that its dispatches from Chefoo, Port Arthur and Tokio last June to the effect that the Japanese battle-ship Yashima had been sunk by a mine off Delny, which dispatches were denied by the Japanese authorities at the time, have finally been officially confirmed. The Japanese government has notified the foreign governments of the loss of the ship. The number of men who went down with the vessel is not known, but it is believed to have been small. The official details show that the Yashima struck a Russian mine and later attempted to make Dainy harbor, but this proved impossible and she sunk in deep water.

proved impossible and she sunk in deep water.

The loss of the Yashima has been concealed by the Japanese, though the Russian authorities have believed for some time that the reports that the battleship had been destroyed were correct. It is important, since it is now disclosed that Japan has only four more modern battleships remaining. These are the Ashai, Fuji, Mikasa and Shakishima.

The Yashima was one of the finest battleships of the Japanese navy. Her displacement was 12,320 tons.

The Russian squadron at Port Arthur includes five modern battleships more or less damaged, and Rear-Admiral Rojestvensky's command, which is now en route to the Far East, also numbers five battleships.

The San Francisco Bulletin says that with the arrival in Berkeley of Samuel Hume, a Wells-Fargo express messenger on the Oregon run, comes the story of a desperate hold-up on the Shasta route. Two masked men robbed the train crew on the overland freight that preceded the Oregon express by an hour or two.

SWEEPING LIBERAL VICTORY IN CITY

sible to conceive of a grander tribute possible to conceive of a grander tribute to the strength of Liberalism in this eity than the magnificent victory won by George Riley at the polls yesterlay. His friends knew he would be returned by a handsome majority, the Times predicted it from the first, and this conviction was expressed right to the end. The big gathering in the theatre, enlivened by a brass band, the smart talk of a Tupper, the frantic distribution of roorbacks by the morning paper were impotent to stem the tide which flowed with irresistible force to victory for the Liberal candidate. It can safely be said that all the surprise at the result was on the side of the Conservatives, for there were dozens and dozens of Liberals who maintained that Mr. Riley would have a majority was 498.

The total vote was not as large as it would have been had the Conservatives been in a position to give Mr. Riley anything like a fight; nevertheless it was a fair-sized one, being slightly in excess of the aggregate in 1900. It started off at 9 to the strength of Liberalism in this eity Miss Mary Hallock Delighted Her Audiattendance was reduced to a considerable extent owing to the fact that it was able extent owing to the fact that it was election night. The musical element of the city was well represented last evening, however, and the body of the A. O. U. W. hall was well filled in spite of the fact that it was election night.

Miss Hallock, who, in addition to being a pianist ranking among the best, is also a student of music in its highest sense. She has made a study of the science of music from every standpoint. Her lecture last night proved most interesting and instructive. It was illustrated by selections from the very best composts, which were played by her with a finish which also delighted the audience. Miss Hallock's will give a second evening's entertainment to-night, when all who love good music will have another opportunity of hearing her. The programme this evening will take the form of a piano recital. All who attended last evening were delighted with the character of the programme, and will avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing Miss Hallock's recital to-night. The polls closed sharply at 5 o'clock and the counting commenced. It was probably the quickest count on record, the nineteen boxes being disposed of in less than three-quarters of an hour. Mr. Riley led from the start, and in only one box did the Conservatives make a showing. Every bulletin that was flashed on the screen by the Times indicated that the question was only one of majority, and as the counting progressed the outlook for five hundred was good. The first bulletin promptly dispatched to the Times announced that the counting had commenced. Then came the figures—Riley (Liberal) 166, Prior (Conservative) 135, Watters (Socialist) 52. The next bulletin recorded Riley 752, Prior 527, and Watters 289. Eventually there came the finals—Riley 1,680, Prior 1992 and Watters 238. on account of the boy's youth that the sentence will be commuted to imprisonment for life.

Details Regarding Court to Inquire Into North Sea Incident Under Consideration.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 4.—1.25 a.m.—Negotiations regarding the North sea court of inquiry have not yet been concluded. The Associated Press is informed that the present position is as fellows;

The terms of the draft of the treaty for the constitution of the court are now under consideration by the Emperor, who may desire some modifications, in which case re-submission of the draft to London will be necessary, but the amendments, if any, are not expected to be of importance. One of the points already agreed upon is that Great Britagn and Russia will jointly propose that France and the United States appoint a high naval officer as a member of the court, which probably will sti in Paris.

was the signal for an outburst of cheering, which leated several minutes. A stop was made at the Times office, where after the cheering had subsided, Mr. Riley said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, this is a grand occasion. (Applause). The Liberal party has been sustained. (Cheers). I have to thank you for returning me with such a handsome majority, and will to the best I can in your interest at Oftawa. It will be my effort to assist the government in carrying legislation likely to increase the prosperity of the country. (Loud and continued cheers). I will do my best in the interests of Victoria, and everything possible for the workingmen."

elect.
Senator Templeman, who was received with cheers, thanked the people of Victoria on behalf of the Dominion government for the magnificent expression of confidence they had shown by giving Mr. Riley such a splendid majority. It was only natural that Liberals should give such a sweeping rote-of confidence not only in Sir Wilfrid Laurier, but in the greatest finance minister the country had greatest finance minister the country had ever produced, Hon. It was probable, therefore, that British Columbia would send to Ottawa a solid Liberal contingent. (Cheers). Nova Scotia had elected a Liberal in every seat. (Cheers). He paid a tribute to the fairmindedness of the people of Victoria in so ably endorsing the Liberal cause, and also thanked those Independent Conservatives, who realized that it was in the best interests of the country that the Liberal administration should be returned to power. YESTERDAY'S TRIUMPH.

The general elections held yesterday resulted in the return of the Liberal govby a majority of about sixty-six, as nearly as can be ascertained. With the election in those constituencies where a poll still remains to be taken, there is little seventy. This is so remarkable as to albe interpreted, as the Colonist very properly does this morning, as showing that while nominally having a candidate of "the government is amply supported by their own stripe in the field, "the government is amply supported by public opinion." The government's majority on the Grand Trunk Pacific bill was fifty-five, so it will be seen that the Liberal party have made great gains, While there cannot fail to be a dispos tion on the part of Liberals to indulge in jubilation, the occasion is one for satisfaction and thankfulness rather than for boastings. The issues before the people were too serious, to be treated lightly. When Mr. Borden took his stand on the le of government ownership of the Grand Trunk Pacific he made the most radical departure any political leader in Canada has done from old party affiliations, since Sir John Macdonald just recognition of work well done, His launched the N. P. Those who were service to Victoria has been sincere and voters in Canada at that time will remember the reply a Toronto supporter sent Sir John on that occasion. "It's a blamed sharp turn," he told his chief, but we'll take it." We fancy that if the sentiments of the Conservative party throughout Canada could have ement, that the words quoted would have accurately expressed them. Borden burned all the old party bridges when he espoused public ownership of railways. He doubtless took the with great reluctance, knowing how unpopular the move would be. However, it is only when men are in desperate straits that they do burn their bridges, and he chose to do it rather than subscribe to Sir Wilfrid's national railway servatives were unwilling to follow him Populist-ward, the overwhelming vote of night was unalloyed. Not only were they able to participate in the celebration of a general Liberal victory, but they had the exquisite pleasure of knowing that their standard bearers in this province had captured every seat where a Victories are always gratifying, yet here were features in this campaign thich lent peculiar zest to the triumph. The government party had two sections o defeat instead of one, and they did it unmistakably. Mr. Riley in Victoria piled up a vote that left him a large margin over that polled for Col. Prior and Mr. Watters combined. In Vancouver and Nanaimo the same elements were confronted with about the same result. After the vote in Victoria yesterday one would suppose the Conservative party, and its offshoot, the so-called Socialist party, would drop all subterance which exists so perfectly in private. The mask is now completely off. Hawthornthwaite and his associates have proven the alliance in the local ernment of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to power | House; the recent campaign demonstrated that it exists as well in Federal politics. If there are only 336 Socialists in Victoria they have no justification for offering a candidate; if there are twice doubt that the total majority will exceed that number, as they themselves allege, the managers should relieve the remainmost create a precedent, and may well ing fifty per cent. from the seeming treachery of voting for the Conservatives,

> As for Col. Prior, the electorate have passed upon him in a manner that we cannot believe he can misunderstand or ignore. Entertaining only kindly feelings personally to him, we could have hoped that his exit from public life might have been under more auspicious circum stances. His political course for the last two years, during most of which time he landslide in Ontario, all failed to maoperated in the political arena, has been so tortuous that his election could have dictions, been regarded as little short of a calamity for this city.

court at St. Petersburg, and that both the United States has every reason to hope that the findings will be reversed.

London, Nov. 3.—Further correspondence regarding the question of contraband of war has been issued in the form of a letter from Foreign Minister Lansdowne, in which he says:

"The Russian government met all the representations made by His Majesty's government and the United States in a conciliatory spirit, and it is understood that the Russian naval commanders have been furnished with supplementary instructions, which His Majesty's government has every reason to believe will be interpreted in a liberal spirit and result in their exercising their belligerent rights for the future in a less rigorous manner."

Lord Lansdowne adds that so far as the government has been able to ascertain Russia has not extended more favorable treatment to German vessels than was accorded to British ships, though German firms have benefitted, owing to the British owners refusing to carry on trade with Japan until present conditions regarding contraband are settled.

Lord Lansdowne refers to the sinking of the Knight Commander and the ton of the Majesty's government and that of the United States has every reason to hope that the findings will be reversed.

UNEXPECTED ORDERS HAVE BEEN RECEIVED

H. M. S. Grafton and Flora Are to Sail For England To-Morrow.

Residents of Esquimalt have been nystified to-day by the receipt of news calling for the immediate return to Engand of two of the warships on this sta land of two of the warships on this station. The Grafton, the flagship of the station, and the Flora are to go. The former is to leave to-morrow in command of Capt. Fraser, of the Bonaventure, and the Flora is to either sail from some station on the southern coast, or is to be picked up by the Grafton, both ships then proceeding thence around the Horn. The orders directing this movement were only received at 8 o'clock last night, and have caused no little excitement. They have been a complete surprise to officers of the navy as well as to the civilians ashore. The Grafton had coaled preparatory for a cruise to Honolulu and California ports, and she was to have sailed on Saturday or early next week. Officers had been planning was to have sailed on Saturday or early next week. Officers had been planning accordingly, and while they had been looking forward to an early return home in view of the time being near at hand when the ship was to recommission for continued service on this coast, they had not anticipated the new turn which events have now taken.

not anticipated the new turn which events have now taken.

As for the Flora, she was due back in Esquimalt in the early spring. She is now, it is believed, not wholly prepared for the long trip into the Atlantic and across that ocean home. Therefore it is possible she may have to wait on the arrival of the flagship for provisions, etc., as the suppy station on the South American coast was recently disposed. At the residence of Rev. Dr. Campbell, 277 Fort street, a quiet wedding took place on Monday, October 3rd, when Mr. Simon Billings and Miss Mary Pollow, of the city, were united in marriage by Rev. Joseph McCoy, M. A., of Knox church. American coast was recently disposed

So far as can be learned to explanation is given for the orders just to hand, nor can there be any surmised. It has been stated that the action is in accord with the policy of the admiralty to reduce Esquimalt station to two ships, leaving but the Bonaventure and Shearwater together, with survey ship Egeria here; but this decision would hardly be executed in the short time which has clapsed since the previous orders respecting the fleet were received.

The Grafton was to refit in Esquimalt, and a sum of money had been appropriated for the work. No preparations whatever had been made for the sudden departure of the ships, and it would therefore appear as though special circumstances warranted the new orders. It has further been argued that the admiralty are determined on carrying out the suggestion of Sir John Fraser respecting a flying squadron.

The Flora has about nine more months of her commission to serve on this station, and it was hoped that she would make Esquimalt her headquarters for several more years. Capt. Baker, who is in command, is a very popular officer, and last year her crew won second place for gunnery in the whole British nays. The vessel is a second class cruiser, a sister ship to the Bonaventure, and the Graf-So far as can be learned no explana men's class in connection with the Young Men's Christian Association will be held at the gymnasium. Commodore Goodrich and staff are to remain at Esquimalt, which makes it appear as though the station would not be further reduced, but rather that some very radical changes are contemplated by the newly appointed senior lord of the admiralty. In this connection it may be possible that the Grafton and Flora are to be replaced by vessels of a much greater tonnage, the necessity for which might be emphasized by the present Anglo-Russian situation.

With the Grafton and Flora gone, only the Bonaventure and Shearwater will remain, and of these two ships only one is available for immediate use, the Shearwater being now undergoing re-

PASSENGERS ON TREMONT.

Arrival of Russian Who Had Served a Term in Siberian Prison.

Oriental liners have been numerous in port this week. This morning the steamship Tremont, of the Boston Towboat Company's Manila line, reached Victoria after an uneventful voyage. She has a big saloon list of passengers and a large cargo. Lim Yet, a local Chinese, dressed in blue silk robes, was among the arrivals. With his mother and other Chinese he has been visiting the land of his birth, and has had many exciting experiences. In the country, inland from Canton, he was robbed of all personal effects and clothing to the value of a couple of thousand dollars. Chinese bandits broke into the house where he had been living and relieved him of almost every valuable he had. On their reappearance, some nights later, Lim says that they made off with nearly all the furniture in the house in which he was staying. There were about 15 of them, and while a number went through the building others held the occupants. The bandits were all armed, and Lim and his friends could offer no resistance. He has put this case into the hands of the Britsh consul at Canton.

A United States Consul-General Predicts That Japanese Will Establish a Suzerainty.

He has held that position for the past five years and is now on a short va-It is his intention to yisit his home in Phalidelphia, after which he will go to Washington on official business. Consul-General McQuade has ar-ness. Consul-General McQuade has arranged also for a consultation with James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern, regarding the possibilities of trade between the States and China. In an interview this morning Consul McQuade remarked that the evident intention of Mr. Hill was to increase the number of Great Northern freighters plying between the United States and the Orient. Communicating with Mr. Me. Orient. Communicating with Mr. Mc-Quade, he had expressed a desire for an interview on the general trade through-out China. Mr. McQuade agreed and arranged to call upon the railway mag-nate during his present visit to the United States.

Consul-General McQuade says that the Consul-General McQuade says that the coolies in the district neighboring Canton are in a constant state of rebellion. He condemns the form of government in most emphatic terms. The official positions are purchased at enormous sums, and those securing the appointments resort to every possible means to wring from the people sufficient to make up the amount expended in securing election. These corrupt practices are performed openly and there is absolutely no attempt at concealment. it concealment.

The result of this, Consul McQuade says, has been constant rebellion. When the coolies are not actually in arms they are so dissatisfied that riots are comare so dissatisfied that riots are commons. On one occasion a short railway was being constructed and a large number of coolies were employed on the roadbed. Ten or twelve American were superintending the work. Without any warning the coolies refused to continue their labors and threatened to mob their foreman. The latter just managed to extricate themselves from what was a dangerous position by judicious use of revolvers and other firearms. This, Mr. McQuade remarked, was simply an illustration of what was constantly occurring, and could be expected to continue until some better form of government was introduced.

"In 1876 Japan was paying a tribute to China, but two years hence China will be contributing an annual sum to the exchequer of Japan," said Consul McQuade. "This is no reckless assertion. The present disorganized condition of the Chinese propinces cannot continue, he says. The present government is absolutely useless; there is no patriotism among the people; in fact there is nothing to hold the country together. His opinion is that Japan will ultimately establish a suzerainty over the Chinese Empire. Already Japanese officials are practically governing many districts, and shortly before he left the Orient the Japanese government is reported to have practically governing many districts, and shortly before he left the Orient the Japanese government is reported to have assumed control of Manchuria.

Of course, Consul McQuade says, everything depends upon the result of the present Russo-Japanese war. There seems to be no donbt in the minds of those residing in Korea and the const districts of China as to the outcome. Everyone believes that the Japs will not only be able to hold what has already been won, but will drive the Russian army back to the frontier of that Empire. "Russia has for many years acted the part of the masterful bully in the East." remarked Consul McQuade, "but the terrier now has the bear by the nose and won't let go." Sympathy all over the country is with the plucky little Japs.

Consul McQuade is accompanied by a party of relatives and friends on his present trip. He is delighted with Victoria, commenting on its neat appearance, the beauty of its situation and the grandeur of the scenery. The consul and party left at noon by the steamer Tremont for Seattle, from where they will immediately start for the Eastern States.

BRANDED SALMON

Indians Took Them in the Babine River During the Fishing Season.

Hans Helgeson, fishery officer under Hans Helgeson, fishery officer under the Dominion government, has just returned from a trip among the northern rivers of the province. He brought down with him a smoked salmon branded ou both sides. This was one of a good number caught by the Indians in the Babineriver. The Indians were greatly excited over this, as the brand appeared very plainly before the fish was cured. It is in the form of a W and was given to Mr. Helgeson by Indian Agent Loring at Hazelton. The Indians upon finding the mark on the fish designated it as government fish. He will show it to Commissioner Babcock, and is very anxious to find out where the branding was done, so as to trace the origin of the branded so as to trace the origin of the branded salmon, which would be most interest-ing to know, and afford valuable informa-tion in the study of salmon life.

SUED FOR SLANDER. Writs Issued By W. F. & H. F. Bulle Against B. R. Seabrook.

Against B. R. Seabrook.

It is not unlikely that an interesting case will be heard in the Supreme court before very long. On Wednesday writs were issued on behalf of W. F. & H. F. Bullen against B. R. Seabrook, of the B. R. Seabrook Machinery & Supply Company, who is being sued for slander, the damages claimed by each plaintiff being $10,000. Just what the alleged slander consists of the Times was unable to learn to-day, the statement of claim not having been filed. This will be done in the course of a few days.

A Times representative 'phoned up Mr. Seabrook this morning and inquired if he had been served, and he said the documents were presented to him on Wednesday. "What was the slander?" queried the reporter. "I don't know," replied Mr. Seabrook Messrs. Eberts & Taylor are representing the plaintiffs.

Mr. Seabrook was formerly manager of the Albion Iron Works, and embarked in business for himself upon severing his connection with the firm. Subsequently the Messrs. Bullen took over the Albion Iron Works to execute some special contracts.

In the course of an interview with Reuter's representative before his embarkation for the Cape, Sir Charles said that one of the greatest needs of South Africa is an increased white population; and with the object of inducing colonists to come into the country now being tapped by the Capt to Cairo railway land is being surveyed which will be given out in free grants of 160 acros each to boua fide settlers. At the present moment we are, he said, reserving plots along the line from Buluwayo to Salisbury.

No piece of land will be more than three miles distant from the railway. This scheme will be carried out north of Buluwayo right up to the Zambesi and judging from last year's favorable results of cotton and tobacco cultivation, settlers should have a prosperous future before them.

"By next spring, when the line reaches Kalomo, the question will arise of the farther extension of the rail towards Tanganyika. By that time we shall have accumulated further evidence of the mineral deposits in Northwest Rhodesia to the south of the lake. From Tanganyika it is probable that there will be two lines—one through the Congo and another through German territory. There will be plenty of scope for two lines, one on either side of the lake.

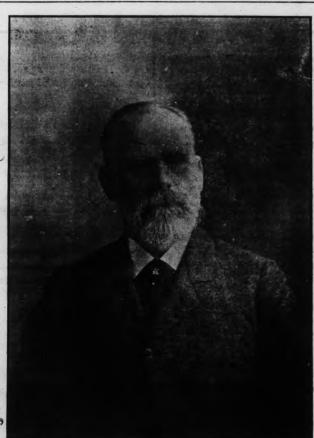

"I know," continued Sir Charles, "there are people who think the Cape to Cairo line mythical. There are others who shrug their shoulders at this railway development and say, "Will it pay? I am firmly of opinion that there will be not merely one line in this region, but that it will become a network of railways. I base this opinion on the pro-

Dying in New York.

New York, Nov. 3.—Two persons, who ate part of a pudding sent to a theatrical boarding house in West Forty-th'rd street, are dying in Roosevelt hospital; a third is in a critical condition, and the police are scouring that part of the city in an effort to locate the messenger who left the package at the door.

It is bolieved that the sender of the package planned the death of the entire household, with an idea of revenge for some unknown cause. Had the pudding reached the dinner table, as was intended, the lives of a score of persons would have been imperilled. The colored housekeeper, her son, who acts as bell-boy, and another negro lad were the victims. They are some of the pudding before preal time. A few moments later they were writhing from the effects of arsenic poisoning.

A young man left the pudding at the door, saying it had been sent by a caterer in a nearly werent.

It is quite impossible to say when the Cape to Cairo railway as a whole will become an accomplished fact, but I am sure it must become one act, but I am sure it must become one at no very distant date. The way to make the Uganda railway a paying concern is to join 4 up with Khartoun; and if Sir Wm. Garstin's projects at Roseires are carried out, the line must be pushed on from Khartoum to Roseires. Thence, naturally, it must be gradually extended to the Uganda line."

LEADERS WHO SMOKE.

Oyama, it seems, is to be added to the list of smoking generals. Bennett Burleigh, in a dispatch to the London Dally Telegraph, says that, at the battle of Liao Yang, "the commander-in-chief, with a staff numbering 60 officers, sat on chairs on a green eminence smoking cigarettes as they watched and directed the movements."

It was a habit of General Gordon to smoke cigarettes constantly all through an action, and every available pocket was stuffed with them when he was setting out on any errand that gave promise of trouble.

One of the most striking differences between modern generalship and that of list of smoking generals. Bennett Bur-leigh, in a dispatch to the London Daily the railway commission. The total accidents since May 3rd on Canadian railways are reviewed and the commission concludes that none of these accidents can properly be attributed to overwork or lack of rest of railway men.

In collisions the greatest loss of life occurred in smoking and second-class cars, which are old and comparatively weak, while there has been a great increase in weight and strength of sleepers and first-class and baggage cars.

The board is considering whether it should not from time to time request provincial attorney-generals to promptly proceed with prosecution in every instance in which negligence, carelessness or failure to observe working rules or orders has resulted in the destruction of human life. At present railways merely dismiss the gullty employees, land by the time further punishment is thought of the parties are usually out of the country. Mrs. Daniel Williams, wife of one of the prominent business men in Antioch, savagely horsewhipped James Barnstable in June, 1903. Mrs. Williams claimed that Barnstable, who also is well known in Antioch, had made remarks reflecting on Miss Ruth Williams, Barnstable went to the Williams residence to explain, and received a number of lashes across the face from a horsewhip wielded by the enraged mother. He sued for $25,000 in damages.

The case turned on the point: "Did Barnstable gossip unpleasantly about the young woman?"

The jury thought he did. INCREASED TO FIVE HUNDRED. Recount Gives Mr. Riley Still Larger Majority-Prompt Bulletin System.

There was an immense concourse in front of the Times building last night. The results of the elections throughout the whole Dominion were thrown upon a screen arranged on the Driard, by the kind permission of C. A. Harrison, proprietor of the hotel. In addition to these there were alarge number of views and there were a large number of views and cartoons which held the attention of the big crowd for several hours. As each Liberal victory was displayed the spectators gave vent to their delight, and when the summary of the situation was disclosed showing that the Laurier adminis tration would have a larger majority than ever, cheers rent the air. One gentleman suggested that it would be a graceful action on the part of Geo, E. we that the House be de-

Of course the greatest enthusiasm was aroused by the announcement of Mr. Riley's victory over Col. Prior. Next to this, probably the bulletin which was received with the most enthusiastic de monstration was the one which gave monstration was the one which gave a summary showing that Ralph Smith had badly beaten Capt. Wolley and Mr. Fenton. Mr. Smith's triumph was very popular in Victoria, where the successful candidate is highly esteenied. It was expected that the finish would be closer, but there was no doubt. Run Down by Steamer.

A tragic story of death presentiment is exercising the minds of the fishermen of Brixham, on the shores of Torbay, Devonshire, England.

During a recent Sunday night a fisherman named Furneaux startled the household in his little cottage by a terrified shriek. To his wife he explained that he had just had a horrible dream.

"I saw our boat out at sea," he sa'd, and a steamer came down on us and cut us in two. We were all drowning when I awoke."

In the afternoou the trawler Lyfa, of which Furneaux was one of the crew, sailed out in the channel with her full complehent of five, including Furneaux. Two days later the steamship Heathbank anchored off Brixham, and reported that she had on board the body of a fisherman named Tucker.

The captain reported that at 9 o'clock that morning the Heathbank had been in collision with a trawler, had cut her down to the water's edge, and she had sunk. A boat had been lowered, and the lifeless body was the only remannt of the mighty Sir Hibbert, but the Liberals wept the seat with a majority of more than eight hundred.

The attention of the crowd never flagged, the Times varying the display of election returns by a series of excellent cartoons and views, the former taking off the defeated candidates very nearly. The Times has received many compliments from the citizens on the commendable enterprise it showed in giving out the returns in the most reliable, prompt and attractive manner. The installation of a special wire in the office enabled this to be done as soon as the reports came in.

There was an official count by the returning officer for Victoria this morning with the result that Mr. Riley's majority is increased to five hundred. The figures of the various polls were as follows:
